the handbook of marketing scales is a compilation of multi item self report measures developed and or frequently used in consumer behavior and marketing research over 150 scales are included in the handbook many of which were originally published in marketing and consumer related journals or conference proceedings la 4e de couv indique this is the seventh volume in the long running marketing scales handbook series the purpose of the book is to help readers benefit from vetted research by some of the world s consumer behavior experts by learning about the measures used by the experts the hope is that those who borrow the well developed scales rather than using quick and dirty measures will achieve higher quality insights in their research activities the book contains reviews of 364 multi item measures that were reported in one or more articles published in top marketing journals in 2010 and 2011 each review provides the scale items questions or statements as well as information about the scale s origin previous users and measurement quality the scales are useful when wanting to accurately measure theoretical constructs such as attitudes emotions and traits in surveys and experiments with a wide variety of participants such as consumers viewers patients patrons or citizens many of the measures could also be used in business settings when studying employees and or administrators the scales reviewed in this volume are primarily new and are not in the previous volumes of the series which measurement scales have been used the most in consumer insight research dr bruner author of the classic marketing scales handbook series set out to answer that question after reviewing several thousand multi item measures used in scholarly research of consumer issues it was clear that some scales had been used much more than others twenty of those are the focus of the book not only do these top 20 indicate what is popular with marketing scholars but is provides details about how to precisely measure some of the most important psychological constructs that shape consumer behavior this book is meant for researcher in a variety of fields who are interested in reliable measures for use in surveys and experiments instead of using simplistic measures of dubious quality or at the other extreme having to build and refine measures from scratch researchers can use the book to learn from the experts who have already crafted quality measures by using better scales accuracy is increased which thereby improves the results of analyses and the decisions based upon them back cover marketing scales handbook a compilation of multi item measures the third volume of the series is the largest book of its kind ever published this invaluable book is not a revision of the previous publications but a distinctly separate volume the scales included here are either new or are newly devised adaptations of previous scales and they were not described in either volume i or ii picking up where volume ii left off this volume presents 941 scales culled from articles published in the top marketing journals between 1994 and 1997 the editors of this third volume clearly describe these scales including the psychometric qualities the samples with which they have been used and some results of the studies in which they were used they also give the origins of each scale and describe how the new scale differs from its precedents combining this volume with the previous two researchers have easy access to nearly 2000 measurement scales thus users of this volume can avoid reinventing the wheel as marketing scales will in many cases reduce the need to conceptualize test and validate a measure from scratch this volume includes information about each scale s validity how it was measured and how it could be improved so marketing scales users can not only build on the previous work of other scholars but strive to produce even higher quality research while a vast number of scale instruments have been published in various journals and conference proceedings a comprehensive handbook of multi item scales with directions on how to use them has never been published until now after an overview of the development of multi item scales the remaining chapters include scales on leading topics important to marketing research individual behaviour values information processing reactions to advertising stimuli attitudes and ethics and sales and sales management practices each of the 124 scales is presented in a consistent format including the construct description development samples validity scores source other evidence other sources references and scale items
